With fondness and pleasure we dedicate this book ... not to WALTER CLINTON JACKSON

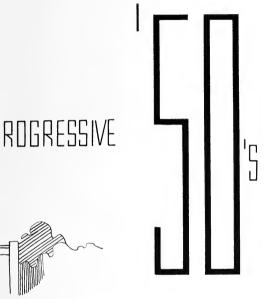

as Chancellor of the Woman's College, nor to Walter Clinton Jackson because this is his last year with us, but rather to Dr. Jackson as the MAN, in this our "Dr. Jackson year"—the year of the progressive fifties. His character and strength work their way to the hearts of the students as does his open-mindedness and sincerity which so beautifully exemplify the spirit of this college.

GOVERNOR W. KERR SCOTT

ADMI

GOVERNOR W. KERR SCOTT

In 1948 Kerr Scott, formerly Commissioner of Agriculture, was elected governar of the State of North Caralina. An alumnus of State College in Raleigh, Governar Scott is actively concerned with the entire University, and much of his energy in affice is consumed with the advancement of public education. Since his inauguration in 1949, Governar Scott has shown signs of an aggressive liberalism. As an active, alert official, he is keenly aware of the needs of the University of North Carolina and is equally interested in its students.

DR. WALTER CLINTON JACKSON

During the sixteen years he has acted as administrative director, Dr. Jackson has brought the Womon's Callege to a position of first rank scholastically. Now we are watching a physical exponsion that is the embodiment of his progressive thinking and well-wrought effort. It is his farth and confidence in the Waman's Callege and in us that makes him "second to none."

MISS KATHERINE TAYLOR

This is Katherine Taylor's second year as Dean of the Woman's College. During Chapel report of the pre-school conference, we heard her ingenious talk on the honor policy; it was conclusive and inspiring. She has conveyed this same inspiration in promoting every phase of responsible freedom for women, her energy and perseverance are a consistent force in the life of the college.

MR. CHARLES W. PHILLIPS

Mr Charles W Phillips, Director of Public Relations, is one of Waman's Callege's best advertisements as he travels around the state as ambassador at large. Mr. Charlie, director of Gurls' State in the summer, introduces to W. C. many of the North Carolina high school girls who later return to aur campus as students. CHANCELLOR WALTER C. JACKSON

WILLIAM D. CARMICHAEL, JR.

No one was more enthusiastic about the first Greater University Day than William D. Carmichael, Jr., acting president of the University of North Carolina, Since Frank P. Graham's appointment to the United States Senate, Mr. Carmichael has served in this capacity. At the same time, he has retained his original position as Controller of the University. His fervent belief in the Greater University Council as an essential force in the growth toward a consolidated university is evidence of his faith in the freedam of thought and action on the three compuses.

A D M I N I S T R A T I O N

This year, as every year since the opening of the college, our administratian has guided us forward. But in this year particularly—the century's mid-paint—we see and feel the valuable fruits of long years of work. Administrative foresight, planning, and practice have created a new Graduate School of Fine Arts which offers degrees in creative writing, in art, in music, and in the dance. A fine Department of Philosophy has been re-established to fill an unfortunate war-created gap. Our building program, begun last year, is already shaping the lives of those thousands who, in years to come, will continue to grow with their college.

THE ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION

Your Alumnae Association welcomes you, the Class of 1950, into the "great unbroken band."

With all the physical changes at Woman's College taking place, it is more necessary than ever that you return to the college as often as you can, and keep informed about these changes so when you come "home," you will feel "at home."

OFFICERS AND TRUSTEES OF THE ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION

AS WE

Some are new, others are members of our own college generation, and still others have been a part of the inspiration, the spirit, and the growth of Woman's College for many years. During our time at the college they have ever been our guides, our confidants, and even our conspirators! They have required of our minds, of our hearts, and of our hands the best that we have been able to give; they have required the same of themselves. They have certainly led, but perhaps more important, they have taught us to lead. In the search for truth and the recognition of beauty they have led us to a keener understanding of our fellows and of ourselves.

IKE THEM

Those of us who are leaving this year will take with us many of their concepts, their beliefs, and their hopes. We hope they will remember us as we will remember them — as friends with sincere affection.

THE NUCLEI OF W.C.

There is just one way of moving, and that is by taking steps. The steps of Woman's College move forward, because that is the only way we can move and progress. We, the classes that compose the college, know what it is to move forward, for by simply living here at W. C. one becomes a part of the learning, understanding, and acting element that seems to be the inescapable course of knowledge at the college. And so, we become a closely-knit body of students—each class perfectly aware of the experience and problems of the others—but all working in our individual ways toward accomplishing the one goal—that of keeping the Woman's College "second to none."

The Seniors remember only too well how it feels to be a Junior, Sophomore, Freshman, and so on. There is a great interwoven scheme of things here that makes us familiar and sympathetic with all courses of study, all social and academic affairs. That's why it's sometimes very hard to know a graduating-in-June girl from a Hinshaw girl; what we have in common is the effort, the friendliness, the love for a campus, and what Woman's College has given us—an ideal to achieve.

Classes can compose a school, but it is the unity of those classes that make it a body-mot just the unity of a mass meeting, but the unity that just a "hey" at 8:00 in the morning can bring. We cannot pay a single tribute, we cannot congratulate any one class or individual, because we all realize where the credit should go-to all 2100 of us, to the campus, to the organized unit that makes Womon's College the moving, progressing school she is.

MISS BERNICE DRAPER

With deep thanks and deeper friendship, with a profound respect based on the big things and on 'the many small joys which you have brought, with a laugh at your antics and a smile at your enthusiasm, with gratitude for your layalty and your faith in us as a class and as individuals, with appreciation for your guidance and encouragement —official and as a friend—throughout these last important years, and with real affection, we, your class of nineteen fifty, wish to continue to have you ever with us as you have been with us at Woman's College.

We The GR

know it's the end of four years at Woman's Callege and the beginning of a life that W. C. has taught us to live. Ever since the days of being a rat, of seats in the upper balcony of Aycock, we've been getting nearer and nearer to this June, 1950. Graduation was just a word then. We were several hundred strangers with ages and ages of college ahead of us.

That first year was full of things to get used to-the lecture series "you mean we can just go on our ticket?"--our first election and Moo coming out on top with her usual grim--the first dance, "Blue Champagne."--Charlie Justice began as a freshman with us --and the first Carolina victory over Dook since 1940--being fortunate enough to know Miss Elliott as our dean-vague as they may be, memories crowd in. We were impressed with the first Founder's Day program--the place seemed so awfully big and important.

Then, another fall, and memories still gathering. Remember actually starting on our class project? We didn't realize then how much it would tie us together—selling things everywhere. "Twelfth Night"—the Social Science and Arts Forums—Max Lerner and Robert Penn Warren—the Sophomore Formal and rain—. Black jackets were fast giving way to caps and gowns. Alarm clacks were set for 4:30 and trucks crawled out to a field of doisies—"Oh, class of '48 we picked." But graduation had nothing whatever to do with us—too far off.

But it took less time than ever for September to roll arounda welcome home from Dr. Jackson and we were really glad to be back. We added hose and school pins to our sales for the chapel window-we depended on Miss Draper's morale-boosting words. It was a big year for everyone. The Greater U. Council was conceived-W. C. attained nationwide fame for the purse drive totals -we threw our pennies into an auction and heard Miss Alec praise Dewey as a result—the Democrats on campus were clicking their heels on Nov. 5—Frank Graham became N. C. Senator— The Hubub was christened—"Sleighbells" rang on a red and areen formal—Miss T's frank and sincere guidance—Aycock pleasures with Melchior, Rubenstein, Lewis Mumford lectures, the National Symphony. Then elections-a cardboard campus again. We elected Nancy Porter and Nellie Jones to take over aubernatorial doings. We had our first Jr.-Sr. and rain again, like the tropics-Betsy and the entire campus going over the top with the International Student Fund Drive. Time raced some more, and it wasn't possible that we would be seniors next fall.

But we were, and are, and now we were. Remember the excitement when we found out that Dr. Jackson would be with us for our last year? When we reached our $2,000 goal?—the new NSSA the long-awaited senior show and cheers for Marie and Sally. The forties moved over and with 1950 we took a look at our jackets and found them faded. The library was completed and the dorm almost there. The Cary continued her fine year. We suddenly began to think about jobs and the future and then-It was hard to believe that WE were carrying around caps and gowns, asking for permission to leave chapel, electing our everlasting officers. A serenade, a party, graduation presents—for us, the freshmen of '46. We look back and wonder how we got through some situations. But we can also look at the campus and remember when buses ran down Walker-and then we know-that W. C. and all the classes that enter and leave it will always strive for progress; to maintain that "second to none." We will always have what W. C. has given us and can never forget it. With our memories on record and our lovalty in our hearts, the class of 1950 says apadbye.

"Smile for the Pine Needles, please"— Rae, Wyndall, Babby with photographer Head.

Mascots Pam Culler and Dicky Dobson.

GOLDEN CHAIN

Golden Chain's links are seven—leadership, scholarship, service, tolerance, magnanimity, judgment, and charocter. Members, selected on the basis of these merits, are campus citizens who con be found both on and behind the scene of activity.

Replacing Who's Who at Woman's College, Golden Chain was orgonized in 1948 as a forerunner to Mortar Board. Stress is placed upon service to the campus through the organizational unit and through its individual members. Publicity does not herald the coming of worthwhile Golden Chain projects. By working for the same goals, the group gives its members a sense of enlarged responsibility to the campus. Links, in all areas of compus life are always among the first volunteers when there's a job to be done.

Golden Chain serves Woman's College by recognizing and encouraging responsible leadership. Faculty advisers as well as members contribute both constructive criticism and able guidance. By giving each other strength through encouragement, each individual finds that growth emerges with membership in the Golden Chain.

Lee Mohan, president, has odded to the effectiveness of the Chain's activities. With Oriana McArthur, vice-president; Betty Crawford, recording secretary; Betsy Newman, corresponding secretary; Sammy Samuelson, treosurer; and Mary Ann Preston, social chairman; the organization's operations prove efficient.

Miss Helen Ingraham, Miss Ellen Griffin, ond Dr. Malcolm Hooke can point with pride to the Golden Chain. Individual and unit achievement are evidences of the effective service and leadership both acknowledged and stimulated through the symbolic seven linked chain.

Margie Moore making plans with Miss Hunter.

W. C. looked wonderfully familiar that second September ... pulling things out of storage and moving them from the freshmon to an upperclass dorm ... seeing old roommates and all the last-year's faces ... and "why didn't you write last summer?" ... studying after 11:00 and overdoing it ... getting around to discovering Peabody and having a wonderful time with weenie roasts and kicking up red leaves on walks ofter class ... taking out last year's agonies on this year's rats ... will the jackets be black with white, white with black, lavendar?... and then wearing them ... hundreds of kinfolk marching through the dining halls in the spanking black blazers and we didn't want to take them off for weeks ... Henry IV ond Gulliver were our men of the moment and then there were those tasting tests in the Psych Lab . . . the Sophomore formal and mobs of people in non-ocodemic faces . . . that Notre Dame-Carolina game and screams from the dorms the first five minutes . . . "whot we know vs. whot we do" . . . campus activities looking more and more exciting . . . meetings with Miss Hunter to plan schedules and the constant confusion and indecision about majors and their requirements . . . "calling (or senior dates" for the sophomore party . . . the party the seniors gave us and feeling the "sister spirit" more than ever . . . standing under their windows with "The Time Has Passed away and we must port" . . . getting up at six and plowing through muddy fields to make their daisy chain . . . and then carrying it for the long lines of black robes and knowing that someday we too will be aisle-marching . . . moving up another notch.

Getting Down

We had one year at W. C. and every minute of it will stay with us forever. We chose to get our training from September to June . . . writing at 120 per, finding out what makes those ominous-looking machines tick and feeling like a great conqueror when we could look at them without shuddering . . . hoping against hope that the Certificate would come through in the end . . . We rushed right down to business but still had time to realize that there were elections to campaign for, dances to plan and enjoy, hundreds of things that our college had to offer us. It seemed like a little metropolis but it wasn't long before we became an essential part of the whole ... and W. C. was essential to us! Our dorm became a unified aroup of airls more so than any other dorm on campus, because we all suffered the same things together. Miss Clement and Hinshaw made life in the dorm a central thing; Mickey was our guiding light as far as Woman's College "do's" and "don'ts" went and for good advice when we needed it . . . We got busier and busier and wondered why they didn't plan to have 36 hours in a day just for us . . . We had parties and teas, the Commercial formal in the spring, meetings with President Lucas presiding. It didn't take us long to learn that we were devoted to W. C. but time raced along anyway. We were getting jobs, having all kinds of privileges those last weeks, living in the last-minute terror of not being able to pull through. But then it was here . . . we were rushing into Aycock . . . hanging over the balcony and waiting for the final nod from the president to excuse us from mass meeting . . . and then marching out with a "All Hail, Hail to W. C." We had had a wonderful year of living.

Our Organizations

progress is incomplete

EFFICIENCY PLUS SUFFICIENCY

"Organizations" seems almost an inadequate word to describe the living, active bodies on the Woman's College campus . . . and the organizations are many which constitute this part of our life which is so active and communal. For all of us entering into some organizational activity, there is an awareness of personal development as well as a feeling of the growth and enthusiasm of W. C.

Legislature, the Curriculum Committee, the Greater University Council, Honor Board, Service League, the Elections Board, Faculty-Student Reviewing Committee, recreational organizations, clubs, Judicial Board, the publications, and many other of our organizations vary from the very serious, down-to-work groups which struggle with the problems of self-responsibility and freedom, to the earnest, ever improving creative attempts in the Arts, to the light-hearted groups which meet for fun and entertainment. Our campus would cease to be the active and functional life it is without these aroups which educate us beyond that which we find in our textbooks. We find in our associations with them a responsibility to lead and to follow, the know-how for this leading, and the ability to take part actively and positively in community living. Not only do we learn and find the opportunity to apply the theoretical knowledge acquired in the classroom, but our organizations provide us with a better understanding of problems which may confront us in postgraduate years they fill our need for an outlet into society and the activities of that society.

We are proud that the ideals of sound government, that the proper distribution of power and responsibility, and that the triumph of right are operating within the structure of our organizations. We have fervently practiced and upheld these principles of democratic government and living, striving always to improve and progress in our campus activities, living better as our knowledge increases.

Buildings have line, form, and material which make an accurate description of them possible. Student Government does not have this advantage. We at Woman's College do not talk about our Student Government, we act through it. Fine phrases could not denote the range of services rendered by Student Government or point out the value inherent in learning through experience.

Nancy Porter, the Chief Executive, has had able assistance in Nell Jones, Vice-President; Fran Fukher, Secretary; and Jo Pharr, Treasurer. These were not the only Student Government officials—house presidents, judicial, legislature, and hall board members, section leaders, and others all fall in the same general classification.

Legislature is one of the most vital of the Student Government's voices. Under Chairman Nell Jones, the members of this body and all others attending its sessions have found that the Student Government room is no longer large enough to provide seating space and consequently have moved into the student activities room at the Alumnae House. Issues, discussed and adopted in Legislature, have been the concern of the entire student body. This year Woman's College voted to join the National Student Association which the Legislature endorsed. A new and more lement late rule has been set up so that the number of board cases may be cut. A coordinating council is now trying to give more order to the round of club meetings that require so much time. A new provision regarding the freshmen elections has been adopted so that the freshman class may feel a sense of belonging earlier in the year. These are merely indications of the wide number of jobs that the group is responsible for completing.

Student Government works. The faculty gives guidance, not orders. It is because of this atmosphere that student-faculty relations here at W. C. are maintained on such an even keel. Student Government is an aid not only in faculty-student relations, but it contributes to the successful planning done by students themselves. Left to chart their own courses, the students learn to make decisions and to assume that kind of responsibility which gives them poise for later jobs outside the campus.

The specific achievements of Student Government to which we point with pride will soon be a part of "the good old days." With the expanding physical plant, campus government firmly rooted at Woman's College will widen its horizons in keeping with the spirit of the progressive fifties.

GREATER UNIVERSITY COUNCIL

The development of a friendly spirit and a cooperative understanding between the three divisions which make up the Greater University of North Carolina is the aim of the Greater University Student Council. Cooperation based on mutual esteem, consideration of conflicting needs and common problems, and a closer unification both academically and socially have been long felt needs on all three campuses. The Council in only its second year has taken impressive steps toward the realization of these aims.

Last fall at the Carolina-State football game, the group initiated a Greater University Day with all three schools participating. The occasion, which the Council plans to make an annual affair, was singularly important in promoting a feeling among the students that all three schools were a part of one great organization. Another of the activities of the Council was the presentation of the students' choice of a new university president to the committee making the decision. The acquisition of radio time enabled the Council to encourage more widely the recognition of solidarity of the three institutions.

Through various channels the cultural and academic facilities of each campus are made more readily available to the other two. The Council has finished two successful years indirectly encouraging or directly sponsoring intra-university cooperation via student government forums, increased intramural sports on the university basis, and joint meetings of comparable organizations from the three campuses.

We turned out 700 strong for the first Greater University Day. The date was September 24 and the occasion was the State-Carolina football game. Sponsored by the Greater University Student Council, the special program was planned to emphasize the unity of the three schools which make up the University of North Carolina.

At Kenan Stadium we formed an impartial cheering section from our special seats in the end zone. Our own cheerleaders led us in songs and cheers for the team in possession of the ball.

The Greater University theme was amplified by halftime activities featuring the three college songs and a brief talk by Dortch W'arriner, president of the Council. After the game we met in Graham Memorial Hall and paired off with boys from State and Carolina who held dance tickets corresponding with our own. With our newly acquired dates we attended a special show given for us at the Morehead Planetarium. An informal dance that evening was the happy climax to a most enjoyable Greater University Day.

Judicial Board

Monday night means Judy Board and Judy Board means different things for different people.

Should you be one of those who sit at the horseshoe table every week, you face the problem of how to be both firm and understanding and meet cach individual case with open-mindedness.

Should you be one who waits outside in the hall, should you be a victim of circumstance, you will join the ranks of other sitters who realize that Judicial Board does not mean a formidable trial. Final jurisdiction in all cases, except those involving suspension and expulsion, rests with the group. Proving themselves capable, they merit the trust placed in their hands. # YOUNG WOMEN'S

MARY ANN PRESTON President The Young Women's Christian Association is the integrating element for all faiths represented on our campus— Catholic, Jewish, and Protestant. Through association with the "Y," we are better able to realize a fuller and more creative life.

At pre-school conference in September we introduced and discussed plans for this year. And then the Cabinet members gathered up all of these suggestions and "retreated" to the R. A. Camp for drafting, compiling, and more drafting of the tentative program . . . When the members returned, they brought with them the final blueprint, the excellence of which we cannot fail to recognize when we consider this year's 'Y'' activities.

There were Discussion Interest Groups, in addition to our usual class clubs---there were plans for get-togethers with our brother institutions and there was work. The Discussion Interest Groups, arranged with each individual student in mind, inspired us and taught us. As for work well, we didn't consider it 'work.'' We went out into the community to render various services . . . we sewed for the local colored hospital . . . we took field trips to business and industrial plants . . . and we worked with the churches in conducting informal Bible study sessions. And on the campus, various ''Y'' groups promoted interesting and enlightening studies of the different Protestant beliefs, the Catholic faith, and the Jewish faith. We branched out into the state and helped with the YMCA's and other YWCA's in setting up leadership training conferences. We branched out still further in our international relations discussions, and then we cooperated with the Service League in sponsoring the International Student Control ence. We co-sponsored Religious Linphasis Week with sponsored the first experimental play of its kind ever give to on our campus. "Everyman," which was so ably directed by Helene Smith, But of all the "Y" activities, we remember our domitory devotions as one of the most pleasant Here we heard various speakers and enjoyed the personal and informal gatherings in the "Intele parlor."

Under the friendly and helpful guidance of Miss Maxine Garner, the Young Women's Christian Association has come to a fuller realization of its aims and the ideals by which it lives; the YWCA endeavors always to create within each student a more comprehensive and satisfying knowledge of God.

INTERFAITH COUNCIL

From year to year the Interfault Council keeps high its ideal of clear understanding and harmonious interchange among the faiths. Composed of representatives from every religion, the Council plans and produces meetings and programs to the benefit of its name. "Interfault."

The programs are more than educational—they produce a cooperative and friendly spirit which is essential to spiritual growth on Woman's College campus. Dr. Warren Ashby of the Philosophy Department spoke at several meetings and contributed a unique pattern of thinking to the group. Inter-Collegiate meetings were held to promote cooperation on a broader basis. The Council sponsored other buils-essions which served to enlighten the members on elemental facts about the several faiths.

Because of the admirable work it has accomplished toward a fellowship of religions, the Interfault Council has carned its appreciated and admired position on the college campus.

PEGGY JEFFRIES President

"Watch the chimney on the school house," said Barbara Moomau. "When it's on top, W. C. is on top." And following our motto "Service," Woman's College hit the top in the Campus Purse Drive, urged on by Chairman Sallie Ogilvie. Slowly, the names Jamison, Mary Foust, Shaw, etc., formed the chimney on the school house by the Administration Building and the Service League reached its $4,200 goal.

"Students as Ambassadors" was the theme of the Service League sponsored International Student Conference in February. Betsy Newman and the International Student Committee gave us an opportunity to know more about the foreign students studying in America and the possibilities open for student exchange and travel abroad.

Through the operation of the Service League, we all were given an equal chance to serve the college and our nation. Clothes and money for CARE were a boon for less fortunate students the world over. Be it exam time or junior formal week-end, we served our time in the dining hall with a minimum of griping and sore backs. We served together and we shared the profits. The work of the committee chairmen, the faculty sponsors, and the tireless floor leaders served to remind us that "Our motto service will remain ..."

The choir is our most campus wide musical organization, attracting students from many majors and all classes. The 150 girl group under the direction of Mr. George M. Thompson, performs at almost every campus function chapel programs, Arts Forum, University Sermons, graduation. Our year is highlighted by their Christmas and Easter concerts which draw capacity audrences.

The Greensboro Orchestra

Faculty members, students, and members of the community at large are the players in the Greensboro Orchestra which is fully symphonic in structure. At the beginning of this year, the membership was reduced from seventy to fifty-seven players, following a careful selection.

The orchestra, with H. Hugh Altvater, conductor and George W. Dickreson, concertmaster, partneipates in the Messah presentation, the Arts Forum, and various other performances, in addition to its own concerts.

The Woman's College Chamber Music Players

This is an organization which devotes its time to reading and performing chamber music works for strings. Occasionally, pieces are performed which require the use of wind instruments. It's all completed, and this is it-the 1950 Pine Needles. This is the consummation of our efforts to produce a permanent record written by time throughout this year of the progressive fifties. How we pondered over that word progressive! Chief Mamber was struck with it way back in '49. She "tried" it on every staff member who entered her portals of 213 Winfield. We thought and thought, had our little jokes about it, scanned Roget's Thesaurus. But nothing else seemed to convey the very essence of Woman's College and its students at the midpoint of the century. We were in complete agreement,

For five months "deadline" was the most commonly accepted word of a staff numbering more than fifty. In September and October Lee rounded up faculty members for their "sittings." Betty and Kat tagged along feverishly with Messrs. Taylor and Staley transcribing names of the Junior and Senior classes while Jackie, Mildred, and Jean sourried to notify their groups. November found Ann and her staff fathoming abstract drawings at 2 a. m. Would people say "what is it?" Then there was the 3 a. m. session in December of Betsy's literary staff when no one recognized anyone for captions. When Helen followed Mr. Martin, Oriana followed Helen .... the organizations had to be kept in recognizable sequence. Meanwhile, Sally and Wilma worried; their deadline was next. In the quiet darkness of a performance in Aycock or in the midst of classroom discussion ... Paddy, Jane, and Davilla projected their flashbulb cameras working to complete the task of photography by January 10—and they did.

So it went; while Helen prodded the editorial staff, Sammy and her business staff searched for ads, sold books, and kept the balance sheet in check. In February it was all completed. Standing in the rain for the fifth time to shoot a quadrangle picture didn't seem so exasperating, ïdeas that had to be altered were forgotten; for in each of us was the satisfaction that toward this end we had done our best.

We hope that you can look back over the annual and recall this year which has affected the lives of all of us deeply . . . that the faces and places you see, the pictures of things you did, won't be forgotten, and that within this Pine Needles the reflection of Woman's College and its students will forever be imparted.

Progress not recorded would be wasted effort. The Carolinian is the instrument that gives us a more accurate measure of each year's activities. It is the center where you can get sneak previews of coming attractions on campus. Wednesday night in the Cary office means a twelve o'clock deadline battling eight pages of white space for supremacy. Should you drop in and stay you'd probably see . . .

Metz chuckling with fiendish delight as she pounds the typewriter . . . Tempe searching for news . . . Powell desperately trying to hatch out an original feature. You might miss McLean who is out checking to see if Stew forgot any incident in Mack Harrell's life.

You would hear a cry for black coffee and copyboy, Pat, to give Marilyn comfort in her hour of need. There would be warnings - "Don't imply everything in a head, Compton" . . . "The verb 'to-be' is nil, Betty Sue'' . . . "Shepherd, not another line like that."

would be gorgeous on proof. With the Wright approach, you would take it all in without comment. Preston, head bowed over copy, might look up, but there would always be questions.

"Has Nurry resigned again, does she think it's funny?" "This presents a lovely problem, Shaw, dicotomy, ramifications and all that, but what does it mean?" "Blessing on you little one, but is it really finished, Betsy, in the basket, typed?" "Did anyone see the play? Farley makes me wish I had gone so I could pass judgment."

No one knows where Ashley is-no trace. Word arrives, "She is at a convention." "Smithy forgot the football scores!" That may mean no job for Inge and Lyn this week.

Sure, eight pages can always be filled. "What we like is an optimistic editor." "Mildred says no money, how could that happen? Did you ask Reynolds too? Well, if the funds run out, we can always crawl out. No, not the window, Little Bit, we are saving thatbesides it's only eleven."

The question facing the staff this year was: We like the Coraddi, who else does? Was the magazine only something that we read manuscripts for, argued over, proof read, sat up all night moaning over make-up to find at the last minute that we bad to have one more page of copy, and then at last, pleaded with Mr. Mac to hurry with the page proofs—and after all this, no one ever bothered to read it?

Believing that if it were good enough, the campus would read it, (and having decided against printing an entire issue of jokes and cartoons) we started out on the fall issue—only to be met with an extremely scarce selection of material. This led to further bewailing the fact that literary output on campus was non-existent. "The old Quill Club has even died" ... "No one is writing" ... The staff not only has to edit; it has to create the issue." But with the winter issue, matters looked more cheerful. There was a selection of good stories to judge from, giving satisfying proof that there writers on campus—promising ones at that!

Following the principle that a secondary aim of the magazine was to publish varied articles and features of general cultural interest, this year's Coraddi included articles on Modern Dance and Ballad singing. It was interesting to notice that the subject matter for stories moved in two or three general trends—children, the far South, and adults with psychotic problems taking the lead. At best, poetry writing was simply non-existent with the exception of the poetry editor.

Having the graduate school of fine arts has been a treasure house for making the art work in the magazine noticeable.

A Sport A Day

There's a special corner of the campus reserved for those class weary students who feel the need to work off excess energy, or "blow their tops"—and to facilitate matters there is even an organization that has arranged a calendar of sports so that these matters can be taken care of in a safe, sane manner.

The Recreational Association, better known as the R. A., claims to have "a sport for every girl" and they generously invite all W. C. students to "play with the R. A. today and everyday." Here's a chance for every girl in W. C.—there are no exams to pass, no practicals, everyone is a member as soon as she enters a sport.

Fall means—hockey sticks and shin guards, speed ball, tennis, golf, riding, archery; Winter means—basketball, volley ball, stunts and apparatus; Spring, and softball, tennis, golf, archery, and riding are back again. All through these seasons there's the opportunity for swimming, dancing, and, for those who like less energetic sports, Recreational Sports.

ADDRESSING THE GROUP: Katherine Marshall, President • SITTING ON THE FLOOR, lett ta right: Marian McAdams, Sally Ogilvie, Anne Grier, Ann Gaudelock, Virgina Van Dyke, Mortha Rase Miller, Sally Lawson, Pat Jardan • SEATED: Margaret Barlave, Martha Burke, Nancy Mantgamery, Miss Ellen Griffin, Miss Kin Burdett, Buldwa Barman, Jacantet Christian, Virgina Berthall, Rebecca Llayd, Carolyn Griffin, Pat Ahler, • STANDING: Pat Fisher, Dat Hagan, Georgie Blackvell, Mary Grace Grady, Sue Mac McCarmac, Daris Lyerly, Betty Alice Gadwin, Ann Wagner, Shirley Hasse, Peggy Jean Cameron, Frances Campbell, Patry Miller, Betsy Haley, Maybelle Badell, Barbara Kinsman, Zalena Angier.

Camp A-Hut-For-Fun lives up to its name.

R. A. doesn't advocate just "plain playing," but trics to encourage skill in the activities. In order to promote this there are always coaches assigned to each team, girls who are proficient in the particular sport and are ready and eager to help or teach those who need or want instruction.

For those who do become proficient in certain activities there are many clubs that are sponsored by the Recreation

Association: for those who are akin to fishes there is the Dolphin-Seal Club which produces the precision water pageant each spring; for those who like to "ride to the hounds" there is Boot 'n Spur, and for the "Isadore Duncans" there's the Modern Dance Club. These are only three out of the ten clubs that are part of the R. A.'s widespread organization, but they will serve as examples of the well diversified schedule that is planned.

There's a social side to the R. A. as well as an energetic side. At the end of each season there are parties called seasonal meetings where the honor teams for the season are chosen. Then at the end of the year the R. A. Banquet takes place with all R. A. members attending. The standing annual honor team is announced and two girls, one physical education major and one non-major, are chosen for their outstanding participation and contribution to the field of sports.

FETE

Gym Meet is a combination of all those things that always attract a large, fun-loving audience, gathered together and presented in such a way that an overall theme is carried out.

The "W. C. Showboat" was given in honor of Chancellor Jackson, who was, as he is always, the skipper of the ship. Just as the old Mississippi showboats used to dock and offer the people a gala night of diversified entertainment, so did the ole "W. C."

Most of the entertainment was provided by the exhibition of gymnastic skills—but for those who might have gone away unimpressed there were songs, dances, and the ever riotous faculty participation activities.

The gymnastic-skills part of the program was the culmination of a great deal of hard work, and decided interest, that had been put forth all through the winter on the recreational Tumbling and Stunts. The girls ran and performed an obstacle-skill course, being rated on each skill. These points were eventually totalled and added to the league score and those who made the highest individual ratings were chosen for the honorary team. Under this category, too, must be classified the expert tumbling team from Chapel Hill that performed for the completely awed spectators.

The physical education classes each contributed to the show by giving an exhibition of marching precision, intricate European dances, and clever card tricks.

All during the energetic performances on the gymnasium deck those sitting in the balcony had been in competition too. All the spectators were arrayed in their league colors and, as they sat cheering and singing the performance on, they formed solid blocks of Red, Blue, Green, and Purple. The noise they created really reached its height when the student-faculty relay was announced!

At the end of the evening the "Skipper" came aboard and, amid spirited cheers from the balcony, announced the winning league as well as those who had been chosen for the honorary gym team—a successful end to a most successful night.

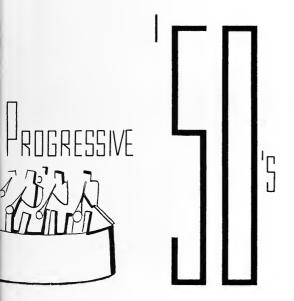

Potience and fortitude-Dr. Jackson

Our Social Hours

where's the spice?

LIFE'S OTHER SIDE

Social life?—the minor (and in many cases major) of all of us! Well we remember those permission slips, blue and white, with the counselor's signature and without the counselar's signature. One club, 2 hearts, pass, 7 Spades!!—and this happened on Saturday afternoons as we sat apparelled in-well, apparelled -waiting with baited breath for week-end dates. The peak season found us at State, Duke, Wake Forest, Davidson, AND Carolina, enjoying sensational fraternity parties, football games, and dances. And then there were our own campus society dances and the awful moments just prior to them when pink carnations arrived to be worn with red velvet formals. Our dances culminated with open house and the perfect winter fragrance of open fires and hot chocolate.

Ease and naturalness were the passwords for our "massacre" birthday parties, peanut butter sandwich parties, and just plain parties in the kitchen. Coordination of faculty and students at our dormitary teas and other social events provided us with interesting and pleasant interludes from classes and study. The "social activities class" which met at all haurs each day in ye old Soda Shappe has dominated aur daytime life here at W. C. Greater University Day when the daughters (that's us) and the State and Carolina sons met on the campus at Chapel Hill is fondly remembered as a glorious and ne'er to be forgotten event. On less busy week-ends we spent restful and happy hours on excursions to the R. A, cabin.

And suddenly it was Spring and music flooted from the jukebox in the Weil-Winfield ballroom. Afternoans found us eagerly absorbing old sol's rays on our own "Coney Island" and evenings singing folk songs in the quadrangle. And then come May Day and the Junior-Senior and the exciting Freshman Frolic—and last our own Senior Ball!! We worked we played, we played and PLAYED—but most of all we combined the two and lived!

Social Planning Council

With an open informal dance on October 22 at the gymnasium, our Social Planning Council under the leadership of Jane Edmunds ushered in Homecoming Week-end at W. C. Our guests were representative of numerous schools from the state, and both upper and lower classmen met many new faces. There was a bus trip to Chapel Hill for the Moorehead Planetarium Christmas Show, participation in the National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament, Quadrangle Sings, and Montaldo's Fashion Show—these were all a part of the '49-'50 agenda.

Advisers to Jane and her committee are Mrs. G. H. Andrews and Miss Elvira Prondecki. They consistently aim to promote an integrated campus social program with variety and appeal to as many students as possible. Working with the Social Planning Council are representatives from the four Societies, Recreation Association, Y.W.C.A., and the Town Students. One of its most important jobs perhaps is in cooperation with Hall Social leaders—also members of the Council. Through these persons the problems of dormitory social programming is discussed and suggestions for activities are frequently exchanged

In working through the Council, the four Societies completed plans for the installation of coke machines in each dorm, Rat Day abounded with its usual bedlam and good spirit, the blue, green, red, and yellow colors vividly spotted everywhere. There were the annual dances, the banquet, and this year—with the introduction of Greater University Day—our dorm social chairmen served as hostesses at the open house tea in Chapel Hill following the Carolina-State football game.

The Social Planning Council ties the knot which coordinates social activities on campus. It offsets our curricula and balances the scale of campus life.

"Amid The Forest Green"

The liveliness and gayety of Merrye Olde England reigned in Peabody Park at the May Day celebration. The ancient traditions of the simple peasant folk were the theme of the festivities. On the morning of the first day of May the village maidens gathered—some to go forth to seek the May, others to cleanse the village of the last vestiges of dark, drab Winter in joyous preparation for her arrival. The modern dance group, clad in spring pastels, interpreted the ceremony.

The Queen of the May and the fourteen Ladies of her Court were received in the village with rejoicing and gay festivity. Her arrival, symbol of the beginning of spring, was celebrated by merry folk dances and the traditional winding of the May Pole.

ER BAR ALEF ALEF THE DEFT THE THE PARTY AND A

Grinning, tan, and vacation-full, we came back "home" this fall. And as we have always done, we brushed off our jackets, spoke confidently of the year ahead—and unconsciously looked for "seniar" friends on a campus where they would be no more. But the freshmen came to fill the gap, to be welcomed, and to become a real part of us.

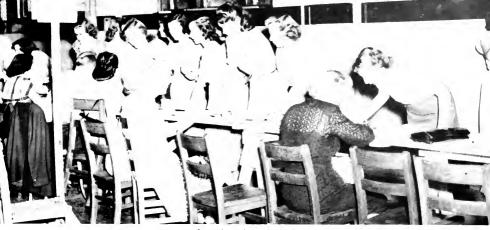

Pre-school conference found us leading discussions, suggesting improvements, and assuming leadership with a capability and a spirit which were typically "Second To None." The tarch-lit quadrangle rang with our shouts. The Purse Drive's little red school house went "over the top" to become a billboard for the fine Social Science Forum. Gym-filled Senior class meetings gave us the spirit and the will to produce the "dazzling" Senior Show with its 100 percent participation and its haunting finale, "Long Ago And Far Away, We Dreamed A Dream One Day..."

Scotty Cowan's charm and burr captivated us from behind bath pulpit and soda shop counter, and those inimitable late Saturday night parties began with their cokes and cigarettes. Thanksgiving came and went and we were hurled into the pre-Christmas term paper race. We whirled through our successful formals, planned our dorm dances and Christmas tree parties, and listened and clapped and whaoped and listened some mare to the Sigma Chi sextet. We attempted the German version of "Stille Nacht" at the Christmas carol sing and glanced shyly and pridefully at Hildur as she smiled in her green class jacket.

"Wander what'll be aver there."

When the Christmas concert came—with its spell of red and white, its holly, its gaiety, its reverence and its hope, we knew that we were home but that our time was slipping by.

A chemist objectively examines a compound in the confines of his laboratory, but the social scientist faces the problem of rationally analyzing the group to which he belongs—society. In an academic atmosphere, it is easy to theorize and present logical conclusions. Because of the subjectivity of the field, it is imperative that the gap existing between our knowledge and our everyday course of affairs be noted.

The purpose of this year's forum was to examine the current scene and determine how-in it differs from our factual knowhow where behavior is concerned. In order to provide a balanced diet, Senator Paul Douglas, Dr. Otto Klineberg, psychologist: Dr. Louis Hacker, economic historian; Dr. Caroline Ware, sociologist; Dr. Quincy Wright, international law expert; Dr. Glein Negley, philosopher; and Dr. Rupert Vance, sociologist, interpreted 'The Social Sciences; What We Know so, What We Do.' Specifically, they thrashed through the questions of minorities, nationalism, the "Welfare State," and the next steps for American democracy.

The forum benefits the students on campus more than it does any other one group. Each year builds on the one preceding it and becomes a real part of the thinking of those participating. Visiting students and faculty arrive from points throughout the Southeast, though in the main it is Woman's College students who are most frequently seen at the Aycock and smaller discussion sessions.

A memorial to our late dean, Harriet Elliott, the forum maintains a continuity through the smooth workings of the faculty committee headed by Dr. Eugene Pfaff. A student committee also actively promotes the Forum by advance publicity both on and off the campus and in assisting with the plans for the arrival of the visiting experts, faculty, and students.

In its third year, the Social Science Forum is no longer an experiment, but an integral part of the year's activities. So long as men remain interested in themselves and their fellows the Forum will continue to have meaning for each college generation

WINTER

Diamond rings came back with some of us after Christmas—but smiles and memories of sparkling New Year's parties and full Christmas days came back in the eyes of all of us. Even the every-year pre-exam rush found us humming "Rudolph The Red Nosed Reindeer" in the Soda Shop. Reading day was soon upon us with its usual gripes and welcome tomato juice parties; Margaret Webster's "Julius Caesar" — like Hamelin's Pied Piper — drew us aut of our exam study cells to clap and to talk late into the night.

Second semester brought new study interests, found many of us attending the tea for Eleanor Roosevelt at Chapel Hill and participating in the International Student Conference. We began to think about elections, to write our platforms, to watch campus posters bud in the Post Office, and to holler like sixty at the pep rolly. If we were Sophomores or Seniors we took an evening off to swish to the gym-held Apache party which the Sophomores gave their green jacket sisters.

We invited friends to our Sophomore and Freshman formals and to our university sermons; we saw the campus swarm with delegates to the North Carolina Press Association Convention; and Arts Forum with its experimental plays, dance exhibition, and concert, again brought fine leaders in the fields of music, art, dance, writing, and drama to the campus. We thrilled to the elections to Phi Beta Kappa and to the beauty of the Golden Chain chapel program; we shored our way into the gym to watch Charlie Justice and his Carolina Colleagues; we clapped our hardest at the Junior Show.

Yet in this winter rush we took time out to make new friends, to live the full life which is here for us all, and to stand on the bridge and smile at the ever-yel!ow forsythia bushes, and to feel the wind in our face and our face in the sky.

Respite From Studies

We are reminiscent of those red letter nights in Aycock. Under the chairmanship of Dr. Eugene Pfaff the student lecture-entertainment series of 19:49-1950 was substantially diverse, frequently didactic, and consistently delightful. The value of these opportunities — appearances of prominent political leaders, musicians, authors and actors — needs no supplementary applause. They flavor the school year with keepsakes we shall retain longer than many textbook assignments; they perform an important role in the allover pattern of life at Woman's College.

Departmental Diversion

The Woman's College grew physically this year and with it the departments expanded in their activities. These events encourage departmental spirit and interest outside and beyond the classrooms and are beneficial and educational to the students of Woman's College and the citizens of Greensboro. The Home Economics Department, their style shows, and their blouse testing campaign put us in the news. From near and far visitors come each year to Weatherspoon Gallery to see the now famous Textile Exhibit of the Art Department. Other exhibits of art by students and outside artists throughout the year are of interest and benefit to the school and public and a credit to the Art Department. The annual Spanish night with its South American air and rhythm and the beauty of the French Night pageant are events to be anticipated each year. Gym Meet and the perfectly executed performance of the Physical Education Department girls and instructors have become a Woman's College tradition. The School of Education through the Future Teachers of America gives the embryonic teachers of W. C. a preview of the life of a teacher. The senior recitals and the concert series are contributions from the Music Department to the life of Woman's College.

SPRING

Trees were as green as the grass, and even the breeze seemed sunny when we came back "home" after Spring Holidays. Those first weeks we remember clearly —the beautiful Easter choir concert, the unusual Morman Easter service with its early morning march and its deep brass chorales, the first time a crowd of us walked up the new library steps to look inside.

We packed the gym to watch the Dolphin-Seal pageant turn international with its theme of the seven seas and to participate fully in Gym Night, we swayed to the rhythms echoing from the twilight-filled quadrangle, we perched on the hill near the gym to watch and cheer on the horseshow. We changed our coffee orders to cokes in the soda shop and, rainccat-covered, hurried to "Coney Island" for a new sun tan.

We scurried through April showers to Tuesday chapel and, saving our nickels, invaded the Home Ec. for lunch; we laughed and clapped and laughed again at the traditional "Senior Unmusical" and wondered—that although

ARTS FORUM

This year was memorable for the capable critics present at the Forum. Richard P. Blackmur of Princeton University, and Lionel Trilling of Columbia–two notable names in the world of literary criticism–were on hand to cover the poetry and short stories submitted; Quincy Porter discussed the music; Barrett Clark gave a critical analysis of the one-act experimental plays; Bessie Schonberg demonstrated dance techniques.

Incorporated with the seventh Arts Forum was the Southeastern Art Conference, bringing representatives from colleges all over the southern region. Stanley William Hayter and Aline B. Loucheim conducted the panels on art work.

Dr. Marc Friedlaender began as the chairman of the Forum in 1946, and by his faithful perseverence and intelligent handling of the Forum, he has been singularly instrumental in effecting the Forum's increasing success and the fame which has been invaluable to Woman's College.

The faculty Arts Forum Committee includes Mr. Charles Adams, Dean H. Hugh Altvater, Dr. Leonard B. Hurley, Mr. Gregory Ivy, Miss Ethel Martus, Miss Virginia Moomaw, Muss Ione Grogan, Miss Elvira Prondecki, Dr. Anna Joyce Reardon, Dean Katherine Taylor, Mr. W. R. Taylor, Mr. George Thompson, Miss Helen Thrush, Mr. Elliott Weisgarber, Miss Kathryn England.

The student committee consists of a junior and a senior from each of the five fields of the arts, the editors of the Carolinian and the Coroldi, Ellen Metz and Mary Elliott, and a student chairman, Marilyn Shaw.

and GRADUATION

First with the Class of '50.

As we walk into Aycock with our caps and gowns and hopes, the whole campus is ours to look at—in a slow evaluating way which we've quite forgotten to use since freshman year—and the whole campus is ours to remember.

Yet our years of classes, book lists, and all night term papers have not turned us into thoughtful, mature women; the horse shows, the nights in Aycock, the full Forum days have not lifted and directed our eyes to the many new concepts and interests which will still be ours many Mays from this one. Nor has it been the talks with faculty members or those cups of Soda Shop coffee which have developed within us a great copacity for sharing and for friendship. Instead it is the hodge-podge of work and fun, the geometric pattern of our many-sided days, our eager absorption of all the values and opportunities which have been ours for four years—it is the full life at Woman's Colleage which makes us full women. And with this assurance, as well as with deep humility, we are looking forward, as we have always looked forward.

But it is a queer thing—the end of something is never an end and the beginning is never a true beginning. And that is good. For new and challenging opportunities will come to us, as will chances for participation in areas now untouched, and as will triumphs still undreamed of. And it is this continued individual growth, dependent on the deep and firm foundations which have been built during these four years which will characterize us even when we call ourselves "Alumnae."

There is something quite thrilling about any threshold —whether we are watching others looking back before they cross it, or whether we are walking firmly across ourselves. For it means that we have taken Woman's College in our stride, that we have gained and tried to give unselfishly, and that we are ready now for different things.

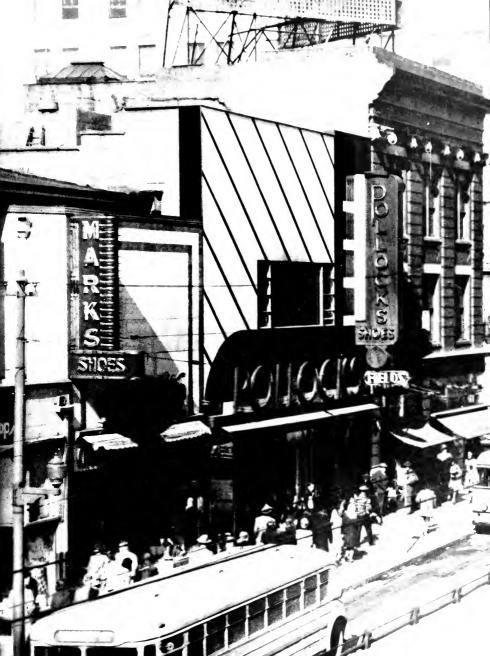

And it means that we must reach up and turn our tassel —with a smile.

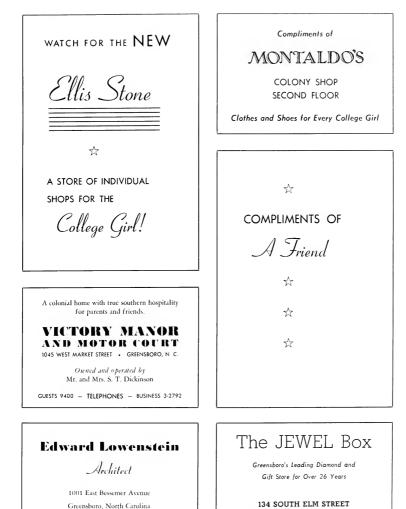

There're just no words for it' 11

A Letter to the Classes of 1952 and 1953

To the sophomores we express our appreciation of the confidence you placed in our concern by selecting us to make your class blazers. We sincerely hope that the enjoyment of wearing your class blazer will be only one pleasant part of your remaining years at college.

To the freshmen we express our anticipated pleasure at meeting you and serving your class. We believe that the black jackets now worn by the sophomores will amply demonstrate the quality of our blazer.

We hope that we can deserve your confidence also, and thus have the opportunity to make your class blazers this coming fall.

Very truly yours,

A Short Course in Success

Back in 1923 the twenties were just beginning to roar... folks were singing "Borney Google", "Ain't Goin' Rein No Mo'", and "Yes, We Have No Bananos"... jazz music was the new sensation and a dance called the Charleston was sweeping the nation... the ladies were striving for a boyish figure and the Ziegfeld Girls were the toast of Broadway ... over in Germany a scrawny little Nazi named Adolph Hitler was thrown in the clink for fomenting a beer-hall rebellion. It was quite a year.

That same year in Burlington, North Carolina, workmen were clearing a nearby confield to build a small textile mill. Some local businessmen were risking their money in a bedspread manufacturing venture. That was the beginning of Burlington Mills, a company destined to play a leading role in the rise of man-made yarn from obscurity to a place of major importance in textiles.

During the past 25 years Burlington Mills has grown from one small mill at Burlington into one of the world's largest producers of rayon fabrics. It now has 74 plants in six states and four foreign countries employing over 27,000 people. Teamwork between management and skilled, loyal employees made Burlington Mills a textile leader. Teamwork also produced the highest quality textile products at the lowest possible cost.

This successful formula was possible because American free enterprise permitted constant improvements in materials and machinery, development of our human resources, better methods of production, and an incentive for progress and growth. The formula brought better quality fabrics to the consumer. It brought better jobs, higher pay, increased benefits, and excellent working conditions to employees.

And so, 25 years after, Burlington Mills wears a badge of success. Its multitude of products are truly "Woven Into the Life of America".
